

FACULTY
BENCHMARK JOB CLASS
STAFF SCIENTIST/0327

Description Summary

Positions assigned to this class plan and perform procedures in various areas of discipline. Determine feasibility of project to ensure significant results. Develop new techniques and procedures to enable project and/or experimental procedures to be carried out efficiently and data to be collected effectively. Design and implement research project/experimental procedures to assure high quality results and completes analysis; may review other staff members' work during the analysis. Conduct experiments using advanced equipment and applying complex techniques, methods and procedures.

Examples of Suitable Qualifications

A Ph.D. and two or more years of directly related experience and background. An equivalent combination of education and experience may be considered.