Washington State University Retirement Plan
Increased Contribution Level

The Washington State University Retirement Plan (WSURP) provides that at any time following your 50th birthday you may elect to increase your contribution rate to 10%. The University matches the increased rate dollar for dollar.

Your decision can affect not only your basic retirement benefits, but also the potential to receive a retirement supplementation benefit. Please visit http://hrs.wsu.edu/Retirement+Supplementation for a detailed explanation of this benefit.

PLEASE INDICATE YOUR ELECTION BELOW.

_____ I authorize the withholding by the University of 10% of my basic salary. The University will match this amount, and the combined sum will be invested as I have designated. The earliest this increase can occur will be the first of the month following my 50th birthday.

_____ I am currently contributing 10% of my basic salary to the WSURP. I wish to reduce my contribution level to 7.5% of salary. I understand that the University will also reduce the employer contribution level to 7.5% of salary rate. In addition, I understand that this will impact my retirement supplementation calculation reducing my potential benefit.

This agreement will remain in force until I rescind it by written notice to the Human Resource Services Office.
