

LEADING THE HUMAN SIDE OF CHANGE

Leading the Human Side of Change

"The types of behaviors needed to support change processes – taking risks, assuming new responsibilities, letting go of old ones, seeking feedback, asking for help, helping others, sharing information, suggesting improvements, experimenting, talking about errors and failure – will be in greater supply in a climate marked by mutual respect, trust and psychological safety."

Carsten Tams, Forbes

Impact of Change at Work

Leads to:

- Increase in absenteeism
- Decrease in productivity
- Strained employee relations
- Increase in stress
- Retention issues

“It is a terrible thing to look over your shoulder when you are trying to lead- and find no one there.”

Franklin D. Roosevelt, American President

External Versus Internal Change

External Change:

- ❖ What's changing on the outside?
 - Reorganization, policies, procedures, regulations, personnel, equipment, technology, etc.

Internal Change:

- ❖ What's happening internally?
 - Psychological process occurring in response to the external change
 - Usually includes experiencing grief and loss as we internalize and come to terms with the change

Why is Change Difficult?

"It's not so much that we're afraid of change or so in love with the old ways, but it's that place in between that we fear...It's like being between trapezes. It's Linus when his blanket is in the dryer. There's nothing to hold on to."

Marilyn Ferguson, Futurist

Transition Model

Strategies for the Human Side of Change

- ❖ Leadership strategies
- ❖ Team strategies
- ❖ Supports

Leadership Strategies: Know Your Leadership Self

- ❖ What influences your response to leading others through change?

- ❖ How can you draw on your strengths?

Leadership Strategies: Know Your Leadership Self

- ❖ Identify your stress response
- ❖ Identify what you are losing:
 - ❖ Are there ways to compensate for losses?
- ❖ Marathon effect:
 - ❖ Awareness
 - ❖ Get input from others at all levels
 - ❖ Translate and operationalize key strategic steps

Team Strategies: Know Your Team

- ❖ Identify individual and team losses
- ❖ Everyone responds to loss differently
- ❖ What stress responses are you noticing or anticipating?

Team Strategies: Know Your Team

- ❖ Be present:
 - ❖ Show up to events/meetings
 - ❖ Provide information and listen to understand their perspectives
 - ❖ Have an “open door”
 - ❖ Connect through “walk-arounds”
 - ❖ Continue to consistently have team and individually meetings

Team Strategies: Communicate, Communicate, Communicate!

- ❖ Explain the reason for the change versus selling the solution
- ❖ Identify and communicate anchors
- ❖ What do you know, what do you not know, and when can you tell them more
- ❖ Rumor control mechanisms
- ❖ Talk about the change:
 - Let them know it's human to have a response to change
 - Ask and listen to what employees are concerned and excited about the change
 - Acknowledge losses, as appropriate, openly and empathetically
